

Steven Koller
8581 Santa Monica Boulevard, #535
West Hollywood, California 90069
skoller@stevenkoller.com

December 1990

Graduated from Webster University in Vienna, Austria, with a Bachelor of Arts degree in International Studies. Vice-President of Student Council and Leadership Award recipient for the class of 1991.

December 1990-January 1994

Flight Attendant for American Airlines. Became the youngest member of the First Flight Attendant program and promoted to Purser on German destination flights. Walked the picket line and honored the Association of Professional Flight Attendants strike in November 1993.

January 1994-July 1997

Studied theater, film and television performing arts at UCLA while studying privately at Larry Moss Studio in Santa Monica and Shakespeare with Lesly Kahn in Hollywood. Paid for schooling while employed as concierge at Shutters on the Beach Hotel in Santa Monica and L'Ermitage Hotel in Beverly Hills.

July 1997-May 1999

Performed in numerous stage productions throughout southern California including "Pure As The Driven Snow", "A Flea in Her Ear", and "Down Along the Brazos", while appearing on the soap operas "Sunset Beach", "Days of Our Lives", and "General Hospital". Joined the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists.

May 1999-July 2001

Joined the Screen Actors Guild. Auditioned for countless television and film roles and won the role of Larry in the television film "The Big Time", stood-in for Tom Cruise in "Mission: Impossible 2", and worked with Kevin Costner in "Thirteen Days". Walked the picket line and honored the Screen Actors Guild commercial strike in 2000.

July 2001-January 2002

Moved to Vienna, Austria, to accept the role of Louis Ironson in Tony Kushner's Pulitzer prize-winning epic, "Angels in America". Performed the role in both parts, 'Millenium Approaches' and 'Perestroika' to critical and audience praise for 6 months.

January 2002-May 2003

Performed as a recurring character in the CBS drama, "The Agency", starring Beau Bridges, Gloria Ruben, Will Patton, and Daniel Benzali. Joined a protest group with several cast members against the war in Iraq.

May 2003-September 2005

Performed the theater roles of Ross Gardiner in "Visiting Mr. Green" and Paul Bratter in "Barefoot in the Park" in Thousand Oaks, California. Guest starred on "Will & Grace", "Gilmore Girls", "Nip/Tuck", "Eve", "Crossing Jordan", and "Life with Fran". Screen tested for a supporting role in "Mr. & Mrs. Smith".

October 2005-present

Filmed 13 episodes of the ABC sit-com, "Crumbs". Screen tested for a supporting role in "Poseidon". Worked part-time at Mondrian hotel in West Hollywood. Joined the Stonewall Democrats and the California Democratic Council. Met California First Lady, Maria Shriver, and Senator John Edwards in Fall, 2006, and made the decision to run for West Hollywood City Council in December.